VISIT TO THE CITY SCHOOLS.

On Saturday last a party of ladies, under the escort of Superintendent Brooks, visited the City Schools. Their stay at each school was too short to see much of the modus operandi of imparting instruction. The oral examination in Prof. Varrell's room was conducted by Superintendent Brooks. The questions were upon geography, grammar and arithmetic. The responses were generally prompt and correct. Some of the specimens in map drawing showed considerable artistic skill, and neatly framed, formed no mean ornament to the walls. We were particularly pleased to see one executed by Mr. Lee Pickering, of Clarksville.

We are glad to know that all the children are taught vocal music. In Germany this is a part of the national education, and to this fact rather than to native endowment is to be attributed the power of her people in song. "It is marvelous," says a writer upon German home life, "how even the little children sing."

The drill in calisthenics gave us the real poetry of motion. What a change from the time when we went "around and around the blackberry bush, or—"

"Hold up your hands like the sky, And let King George's army pass by."

Just as I write this there comes a letter from a teacher under the new order. There is a tone of tenderness and regret when he reports to the old play time. He writes: "I really believe we used to have three hours at least, but those good old times are past. No more do the big boys and girls go barefoot; they both wear shoes, and the boys play ball, and consider themselves ladies and gentlemen when play ten. They no longer play 'frog in the meadow' nor 'cat,' but they croquet and practice calisthenics." But it is not my purpose to follow this thought, for, with all the brightness, I recall some painful episodes in the experience of the big boys and girls of that delightful time. "Square Switch" was in truth a "right teacher," and I hope no Murphy man will mistake my meaning. I remember he whipped Jim—three times one morning for using a plural pronoun with messes, and when the last application had been made from a violent attack of the disease in dispute. Then Betsy Jane would say "them molasses" and "where's my book of 'at' and 'I done my lesson,' and 'I haven't saw your slate,' at 10 o'clock; so that when the "Square" was through with righting (clinging) wrists he was mightily tired, and found the night hardly long enough to recruit his physical energies.

You will excuse this reminiscence which suggests both the sentimental and the serious side of the school question. If you would contrast the old and the new, employ your first leisure hour in a visit to your schools, you will see and hear much that may be pondered to the profit both of yourselves and the important charge committed to your trust.

LADY VISITOR.
Jan. 28, 1878.
OUR Presbyterian friends have made another step towards the completion of their church by putting the painters to work on it. This work is being very beautifully executed by Messrs. Holt & Frisby, of Louisville. The wood-work of the roof is being painted in oak; not the pale yellow of the recent wood, but the deep mellow brown which is the color of the venerable carvings which have done duty for centuries in the ancient church buildings of Europe. The doors, gallery, etc., are painted in warm paneling, which is, we think, the most beautiful graining that has ever been done in Clarksville. There is every reason to believe that this beautiful building will be completed for public worship before the summer.Supt. Brooks' Report of the Public Schools.
As the first term of five months of the school year of 1877 and '78 has just closed, it will not be amiss to give a resume of our school work during this time. Since the opening of the schools, Sept. 24, there has been a gradual increase in attendance until now our schools are full to overflowing, the total enrollment for the month just passed being 463. I feel safe in saying that the enrollment by the end of the present month will reach 500. Calisthenics and vocal music have been introduced into the schools, and already do the pupils show such proficiency in these branches that we are amply justified in introducing the same. The lack of school building and school machinery are a drawback to us, as it is almost impossible for schools to show what they really are with such accommodations as we have at present. I am glad to say that the prospect for suitable buildings is very flattering, and that we will probably be in the same by September. The per cent. of attendance in the white schools for the five months is 94; in the colored schools, 89; average attendance of schools, 91. Number of corporal punishments in white schools, 16 (none for January month); average detention, 81; scholar ship, 83. The cost of tuition per pupil belonging, $1.20 per month; the cost per pupil on total enrollment, a fraction less than $1.00 per month. I will again urge that our people visit the schools. J. C. BROOKS, Supt. City Schools.ST. L. & N. E. R. and the Tobacco Board of Trade.
At a meeting of the Tobacco Board of Trade held this day, the following resolutions were offered and passed:

A Pleasant Occasion.
Miss Mollie Kincannon gave her little friends a delightful entertainment last Saturday afternoon. The youthful hostess was assisted in her duties by two charming young ladies, Misses Lizzie Wood and Alice Kincannon. The little folks laughed and talked and played for several hours, when they all engaged in pulling candy, which sweet work detained them till the evening shades drew near.Devotion Encouraged Mo. 5. Close of the Skating Rink.
The skating enterprise of Messrs. Charles & Behler closed on Tuesday night in a blaze of glory. Two evenings of competitive skating gave an interest to the closing exercises of the establishment, a prize to the most popular lady skater having been given on Saturday and one to the best gentleman skater on Tuesday, the last night of the season. Of course the lady's night was the most interesting, and at an early hour Franklin Hall was occupied by a large throng of both skaters and spectators. The terms of the competition were that the prize should be given to the most popular lady skater. Many thought that it ought to have been for the best skater, but this provision was not adopted on the grounds that one young lady in particular was so indisputably the best that it would have prevented competition on the part of other ladies. The result showed that it made no difference which were the terms adopted, for Miss Marian Adams, the lady who would indisputably have won if skating were the criterion, came in with a splendid majority on the popular basis. The gallant and accomplished editor of the Tobacco Leaf was selected as the organ of the company to present the prize, and a very finely tuned organ he was. Mr. Adams, one of the proprietors of the establishment, and a lady skater, started to a distant corner of the room in quest of the lady winner; the splendid sweep with which two came to the stand was a sight not to be seen every day. The motion of the fair prize-winner was more like soaring than skating and recalled all the poetical descriptions of graceful motion we have ever studied. We thought of Atlanta, the swift-footed huntress of Ceylon, of Camilla scouring the plains so lightly that the grain crops were uninjured by her passage, and more than all of the ethereal and fairy-like Lady of the Lake, of whom the minstrel says: "Even the stars seemed to stand in awe of her airy tread."

Riley was happy in his short address, as he always is when he addresses the ladies, and as we hope he will be when he comes to address one in private, meaning business.

Tuesday, the last night, was a more exciting if a less graceful exhibition of the contestants promising a spirited contest. The competitors were Messrs. Julian Gracey, Richard Caldwell, Geo. Harrison, J. Davidson, Geo. Patch, Sam. Hyman and H. Hendricks. We have only space to notice the four who seemed to us the most promising competitors. Julian Gracey led off the exhibition. The ease, grace and rapid evolutions of his skating at once established him as a formidable antagonist to any of the other competitors. John Rice also exhibited the qualities of a splendid skater, some of the feats showing astonishing gymnastic force. Alas, he tried and beyond his power, lost his balance and was ruled out in consequence of the fall he got.

Gus. Harrison also suffered the fate of— Vandalism which overcame itself, and in attempting some difficult achievement of the art, suffered two falls and so lost his chance. Horace Hendricks skated in much the same style as Gracey, and so nearly equal were they in their merits that the two had to try it over again before the lady judges could decide. Even then long discussion and profound consideration were required before they conferred the prize on Mr. Julian Gracey.

The young gentleman then skated up and the editor of this paper was appointed spokesman for the lady judges to present him with the prize; this he did as well as a terrible cough would allow him. The three judges were Messrs. Adams, Wrench and Hieronymus, excellent judges not only of skating but of good looks, to which latter quality we suspect that Julian owed in some measure his success.

The W. M. appointed as a Business Committee Z. Smith, N. L. Northington and Geo. A. Warfield; and to represent the county in the Clarksville Tobacco District, Council, Thomas Batson, H. Whitfield, and Z. Smith. The following resolution was offered and adopted by a unanimous vote: Resolved, That it is the sense of this County Grange that it would be unwise to dissolve the Clarksville Tobacco District Council, as there are other objects yet to be accomplished by said Council.

A meeting of the masters of the granges in the county was convened for the purpose of electing a representative to the State Grange, when Dr. B. F. Moody was duly and constitutionally elected as said representative.

Dr. CLARK A. MINER of Chicago, chronic disease specialist, who was advertised to be at the Franklin House until Feb. 1st, will extend his stay until the 15th, when he will leave for Bowling Green for some time. The Doctor has quite a list of patients among our good citizens, and will visit the Franklin House occasionally until May 1st, when he must return home. There are doubtless many suffering from old chronic diseases in our vicinity that would like to put themselves in charge of our honorable and trustworthy specialist; but they, or their friends, have so many times been duped by pretenders advertising remedy, but never making good their promises, that wisely they demand some evidence of a stranger's being what he represents himself before trusting their lives in his hands. Dr. Miner does a regular prescription business the same as our local physicians, and unquestionable evidence of the Doctor's standing as a physician and gentleman came through the hands of Jno. W. Faxon as Notary Public, last week. An affidavit was sent here from Washington, D. C., in regard to pension papers of a patient Dr. Miner had treated in Chicago, a year since. In order to receive the oath and place the notary seal upon it Dr. Miner had to prove his standing; so the papers were sent to Chicago, and Dr. Phillips, connected with the Chicago Medical Society, made oath to the fact that Dr. Clark Miner was and had been for years a regular practicing physician in Chicago, office 167 and 169 Madison street, also a man of good standing. Notary Public Randall S. White, Chicago, had the papers returned here, and the Doctor's affidavit taken and sent to Washington. This is good evidence of the Doctor's being what he represents himself to be. See his card in another column.

RIVER ITEMS.
Since the recent rains the river has been rising very rapidly, and at present there is every indication of a big river. Bad weather has caused all the boats to be behind time, yet they go up with good loads.

Eddyville was due up as we go to press; twenty-four hours behind time. Will be down on time Sunday morning.

Hillman passed down yesterday morning; will be up Tuesday morning.

The Nashville has taken Friday for her day, and will go down Friday night.

Anderson and Silverthorn will be up Sunday night.

Tow-boat Charley Bowen has several barges of salt opposite the city for Nashville. She returned to Dover for another barge, when she will take them all to Nashville.

Tobacco has been coming in more freely by river. The Hillman brought in twenty-five hogheads last trip, and the little steamer Gracie brought up thirty-four hogheads from coast below. Receipts by river about 225 hogheads for January.

Dr. G. C. Dorch has taken a position on the wharf boat with Gracey &amp; Bro.

The Taylors Combination Company.
The entertainment given at Melodeon Hall last Wednesday night by this company was one of the best that has been presented to a Clarksville audience for years. The weather was very inclement, but the reputation of Mrs. Chanfrau as an artist of the highest order was sufficient to draw a good house. The audience expected an entertainment of no ordinary merit, but were altogether prepared for the rare treat which awaited them. The play announced for the evening was a drama entitled "Parted," written by Mr. Taylors. Mrs. Chanfrau taking the role of "Grace Shirley," in which character she elicited frequent applause and charmed the audience by the sweetness, unaffectedness and refinement of her acting. More than once during the evening, in the pathetic portions of the drama, we noticed tears in the eyes of several ladies in the audience who were unable to control the emotions aroused in their sympathetic natures by the talented actress. In person Mrs. Chanfrau is one of the most beautiful actresses on the stage, and that beauty is enhanced by the exquisite taste which she displays in her wardrobe, which consists of the most costly fabric, but is altogether tasteful and refined in its make up. She was well supported throughout the evening by the remainder of the company, all of whom came fully up to the standard. The acting of little Nellie as "Maud Shirley" contributed largely to the evening's entertainment, and was remarkable in a child so young, and gives promise that she will some day shine as an actress.

The talented support and the genius, beauty and artistic powers of Mrs. Chanfrau insure the Taylors company an overflowing house when they again come this way.

R. D. MOSELEY, Trustee, collected for the month ending January 31, between eighteen hundred and two thousand dollars. This speaks well for the tax-payers of old Montgomery.

Clarksville Tobacco Market.

OFFICE OF THE CHRONICLE, CLARKSVILLE, FEB. 2, 1878.

Our readers are assured, and would be very full but for the condition of the roads. The market generally was weaker than last week, and rather irregular. Exporters still consider quality and order undesirable at the prices, and the purchases are mainly made by the home operators, who seem willing to take the chances. The loose market is still active at prices much above those ruling for priced crops on the Board.
